

Next Generations Answers Guide

Life is short. Eternity is forever. Whatever you do, start your plan early, update it, refine it, and think about it constantly. Your success depends on what you think about most.

To really be happy in this life and for the opportunity in eternity, God is the only answer

Those that have ridden the train of life have much to share. I've drawn from a combination of sources: The Bible; research; the counsel of others; and personal experience on potential answers to. religion, financial, wellness, and social leadership.

You will gain in direct proportion to the time you put into reading; re-reading; thinking about what you have read and how it applies to your life: Balance what is important with what gives you satisfaction:

Inspire a life of purpose and significance

Identify your unique gifts and strengths

Pray with faith and pure motives

Volunteer your time and talents

Study and practice the Bible

Lead with a servant's heart

Maintain a humble attitude

Exercise your right to vote

Complain about nothing

Love others as yourself

Match faith with deeds

Care for those in need

Connect with others

Control your tongue

Affirm each other

There are certain questions that life presents individual that have not been faced before. I call these the "questions before the answers" and New Beginnings has the answers for all ages and generations.

Today is the oldest you have ever been, yet the youngest you will ever be, so develop your life plan early, define it, refine it, revise it, pray about it, discuss with trusted supporters, constantly think about it, and never give it up.

It is human nature, about 97%, not to plan, shun responsibility, yield to credit debt, just get by, lack initiative, avoid unpleasant topics, etc.

The answers to the following questions are critical for peace of mind and financial health:

Responsibility

Salvation

Stewardship Budgeting

Stewardship Estate Planning

Stewardship Legacy

Wellness

Patriotism

Education

Marriage

Age Equality

Elderhood & Retirement

Why will this resonate with each new generation? Because it provides generational cognizance. It is a guide for understanding better the aging process, inter-generational interaction and communication, and longevity preparation.

Young adult focus groups do not always see the questions, because of group think. However, acknowledged or not those with personal experience that have been there and gone thought the exercise, know the answers to the critical questions for success in life and eternity

Today, we live in a commun-i-chaos age. New Beginnings' website, resources and books have the answers to critical few questions! Specifically, to be fully equipped with the answers for the surprise questions read, Answers for the Next Generation (2019).